

MAKES STARTLING STATEMENTS ABOUT CONCENTRATION OF MONEY AND CREDIT

NEW YORK BANKER DECLARES SITUATION "HAS GONE FAR ENOUGH"

Asserts That at the Present Time the "Safety of the Nation and the Situation Lies in the Personnel of the Men in Control"—Says if Control Got Into Bad Hands it Would Wreck the Country But Adds "I Don't Believe it Could Get Into Bad Hands."

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10.—That the present concentration of money and credit "has gone far enough," that "in bad hands" it would have a bad effect upon the nation; that the "safety of the situation lies in the personnel of the men in control," and that present conditions are "not entirely comfortable for the country," were a few of the statements made by George F. Baker, master financier, at the climax of two days' examination before the house "money trust" investigation committee. But Mr. Baker declared that "bad hands" could not retain the control.

These statements, coming at the end of a day of routine examination during which Mr. Baker reviewed in detail the operations of himself, his bank, the First National Bank of New York, and J. P. Morgan & Co., in the issuance of bonds, startled the committee and Mr. Baker's counsel, Fisher A. Baker and John C. Spooner. The committee had gone beyond its usual hour of adjournment in order to conclude the examination of Mr. Baker today. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, was wading through a mass of heavy statistics relating to bond issues handled by Mr. Baker's associates. Suddenly he paused, leaned forward in his chair, and shot a question at the 73 year old financier who, despite his long examination, was cheerful and confident.

"Mr. Baker, I suppose you do not think there is a money trust?" demanded the lawyer.

Knows of No Money Trust.
Committee, spectators and counsel sat forward in their chairs as the hearing room, but a moment since, dull and stolid, grew tense with expectation. The witness leaned back in his chair, smiled quietly about him and replied:

"I do not think there is."
"What do you understand by a money trust?" Mr. Untermyer continued.

"I give it up, I don't know," said Mr. Baker, with a chuckle.
Mr. Baker persisted that he didn't know anything about the existence of a money trust.

Mr. Untermyer gave a definition of a money trust which was in the effect a concentration of credit in the hands of a few, and Mr. Baker admitted "there is a great amount of money that has come together here, more or less concentrated." He also admitted there had been mergers of financial institutions.

"I suppose you would see no harm," said Mr. Untermyer, "in having the control of credit as represented by the control of banks and trust companies still further concentrated? Do you think that would be dangerous?"

Mr. Baker pondered the question for a time, and then answered:

"Has Gone Far Enough."
"I think it has gone about far enough."

The Baker lawyers sitting nearby, sat up in their chairs and looked interested.
"You think it would be dangerous to go farther?"

"It might not be dangerous, but still it has gone about far enough. In good hands, I do not say that it would do any harm. If it got into bad hands, it would be very bad."

"If it got into bad hands it would wreck the country?" demanded Mr. Untermyer.

The situation grew more tense. The spectators craned eagerly to catch the reply and Mr. Baker leaned back in his chair, his chin resting on his hand, watching the lawyer closely. Finally he said:

"Yes, but I don't believe it could get into bad hands."

"You admit," persisted Mr. Untermyer, "that if this concentration to the point to which it has now gone were by any accident to get into bad hands it would wreck the country?"

"I cannot imagine such a situation," protested the witness.
"I thought you said so," explained the witness vigorously. "But I do not think it would wreck the country. I do not think bad hands could manage it. They could not retain the deposits nor the securities."

"Not entirely," said Mr. Baker very slowly.
At this point Mr. Untermyer closed the examination precipitately.

"MOTHER" JONES GRAPHICALLY TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN STRIKE REGION

Says Striking Miners and Their Families Are Forced to Live in Mountains Without Food or Shelter.

Washington, Jan. 10.—"Mother" Jones, veteran organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, describing the conditions in the West Virginia coal fields, a mass meeting here tonight declared she has seen women and children, wives and families of the striking miners, thrust out of their homes and forced to live in the mountains without food or shelter for four days and nights.

She declared she had seen 21 strikers in a party of thirty killed while asleep in their cabins by a posse of officers.
Representative Wilson, of Pennsylvania who said he spoke from personal knowledge, vouched for "Mother" Jones' statement.

Resolutions were adopted demanding that congress investigate conditions in the strike region.

A MAN'S BONES KEPT GROWING LIKE A CHILD'S

A Strange Disease, Known to Medical Science as Acromegaly Caused Death of Rev. Junius Millard, Eminent Baptist Minister.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 10.—The death of Rev. Junius W. Millard, the eminent Baptist minister, and former Baltimorean which occurred in Atlanta, Ga., is said to have been the result of one of the most peculiar and least understood diseases known to American medical science—acromegaly. His death was directly due to apoplexy, but the apoplexy is thought to have been caused by acromegaly.

This disease is the abnormal growth of the bones on the head, hands and feet. After he had reached maturity an the normal growth of his body and ceased the bones of his head, hands and feet continued to grow as they do in a child. The pressure it is thought, of the abnormal bony growth on the brain caused the fatal attack of apoplexy.

A few years ago Dr. Millard underwent an operation on his head. After the operation the bones of his hands perceptibly thickened and grew, as did his feet and head, though less noticeably.

Physicians whom he consulted knew little of the cause of the abnormal growth and almost nothing about how to cure it. Apparently, he continued to enjoy normal health, though the bones of the hands and feet continued to grow until the fingers misshapen.

In the majority of cases the mind is unaffected, though the disease sometimes causes tumors to form on the brain, resulting in blindness or deafness, and sometimes death—as with Dr. Millard.

This abnormal growth of the bones was regarded as a natural phenomenon until 1886 when Marie, of Paris, began to study of it. It is now considered that the giants of the present time and legendary days owed their great growth to acromegaly.

Since records have been kept of the disease, cases have been recorded where the hands grew to more than eight inches in length and proportionately in thickness, and the feet more than twelve inches. The circumference of the head in a few instances has reached a grotesque size. It was found that the growth is caused by a disease of the nerves and is now thought to be caused by an affection of the pituitary body, or hypophysis of the brain.

Several cases have been under observation and treatment in the last fifteen years at John Hopkins hospital, and Dr. Harvey Cushing and Dr. Llewellys F. Barker have both treated the disease. Dr. Cushing when he was still connected with John Hopkins university, published the results of his observations and experiments, and is considered one of the highest authorities on the disease in America. The positive cure has not yet been discovered, though in some instances the growth of the bones has been checked.

SAVED $15,000 ON $75 A WEEK

A Lesson in Thrift and Economy From an English Workman.

London Mail:—What self-help and thrift can do for a man is strikingly demonstrated by the case of John Morrison, a Yorkshire carpenter, who, although his wages had never exceeded $8.75 a week, has been able to leave behind him a sum of $15,000, every penny of it the fruits of saving.

When he married a little more than forty years ago he looked around to see what economies he could make. He found that he had been spending a least $1.25 a week on beer and tobacco; these he could well dispense with. And this was the nucleus of his fortune.

A few weeks later his wages were raised from $7.50 to $8.75. He could get along without the extra $1.25. When his savings amounted to $500 he bought two cottages, borrowing three-fourths of the purchase money and paying off the loans out of the rents. He was a man of property then. The appetite for thrift took full possession of him. He was fond of gardening and he decided to turn his hobby and his spare time into money. He rented half an acre of land; his wife speeded a shop for the sale of the produce and the first year he was able to increase his savings to $5 a week, with which, in two years' time he was able to buy two more houses.

And thus his fortune grew. House was added to house, each paying for its purchase with its rent, until at 60 he was able to retire on $750 a year, almost twice his highest wages as workman and when he died to leave a good $15,000 behind him.

TAKES HOPEFUL VIEW OF SITUATION

Says Republicans Will Be Free From Abuse for a Few Years Now.

Charles M. Tinney, according to a statement attributed to him in the Springfield Journal is a man who sees the silver lining to clouds. Mr. Tinney in talking to some friends at the St. Nicholas hotel said:

"Every morning during the sixteen years I have been active in state politics and in the public service, I have picked up the morning paper with fear and trembling, wondering what crimes and misdemeanors the Republican party had been guilty of the day before and what plans they were laying for the disruption of the state and national government. All our measures were condemned, my political associates were abused by an opposition and partisan press, and the whole world, according to some authority, was wrong. Now, free from care and all responsibility in a political way, I will take peculiar satisfaction during the next four years in watching the other fellows take a little of their own medicine."

BUSINESS OUTLOOK CONTINUES GOOD

VOLUME OF WEEK'S TRANSACTIONS SATISFACTORY

Widespread Cold Wave Accompanied by Snow Has Beneficial Effect on Retail Trade as a Whole—Trade Shows More Life.

NEW YORK, JAN. 10.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

Business in nearly all departments continue very satisfactory the volume of transactions making an imposing total, as is evidenced by the week's statistics of bank clearings. There is a general feeling of conservative optimism. Favorable conditions in iron and steel are fully maintained. Production of pig-iron continues at a high rate and what approaches a congestion of orders prevails in steel products. Labor troubles in the New York clothing trade produce more or less uncertainty in its various branches, but drygoods generally display activity.

In iron and steel an advance of $2 a ton on steel plates has been announced by an independent interest but the mills are so congested with business that no deliveries are promised for some time to come.

Bradstreet's Report.
New York, Jan. 10.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

There is more life in trade this week. The widespread cold wave accompanied by snow and rain had variable effects on retail trade, but on the whole it was beneficial, helping distribution of wearing apparel, shoes and rubber goods. In addition, the coal trade was benefited and the winter wheat crop, hitherto bare, received a fair snow covering. On the other hand, the western railways felt the retarding effect of the storm.

In the iron and steel industry pig-iron is quiet.

The movement in prices has been irregular. Cold weather has affected quotations of some farm products. On the exchanges the features are the appearance of more strength in the grains, but cotton is 30 points off on unloading by tired holders aided by larger returns.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending January 9 were 378, compared with 421 with the like week of 1912. There were 48 failures in Canada last week.

ANNOUNCES THAT DREAD DISEASE SPINAL MENINGITIS IS CHECKED

Spread Has Been Checked in Alexander County—Dr. Egan Receives Message From Kentucky.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Dr. J. C. Westervelt of the state board of health announced today that the spread of spinal meningitis or infantile paralysis has been checked in Alexander county, and that at Thebes, the quarantine has been raised. The city authorities of Thebes had enforced a quarantine which practically suspended all traffic.

Tonight Dr. J. A. Egan, of the state board of health, received a message, signed "Surgeon General Rupert Blue, U. S. public health service," informing him that the Kentucky state board of health had requested the services of an expert to assist in preventing a spread of the disease from "Pork" county into Kentucky and asking that an officer be sent. Dr. Egan immediately acknowledged the message, but informed Surgeon Blue there was no "Pork" county in Illinois and that no reports of the disease had been received from Pope county, which must have been the county referred to in the dispatch from Washington.

Dr. Egan says he has received no advice from the Kentucky state board and adds that Illinois is suffering from an invasion of spinal meningitis from Kentucky and Tennessee.

WINTERS IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia Leader
The Weather prophets who predicted severe cold and snow and for the opening weeks of winter have gone sadly astray in their forecasts, and in view of the unexpected mildness of the temperature the comment that our winters are not like those of years ago has followed. A lapse of memory is the proverbial failing of the public, which has already forgotten the severe winter of 1911-12, not yet twelve months past and likewise lost the recollection of the deep snows, high winds and intense suffering of some seasons within the last decade. Records extending back many years show that the warm and cold winters run on cycles, and that there is a general equalization of temperatures about every fifteen years. One of the historians of Philadelphia comments on this and notes that one winter in the early part of the nineteenth century failed to produce ice more than an inch in thickness and that violets and dandelions were picked in Fairmount Park on the 1st of February. And this was in the days of our great-grandfathers, whose winters are always pictured as a continuous blizzard, with cattle perishing from the cold.

HOUSE GIVES UP EFFORTS TO ORGANIZE AND QUILTS BUSINESS TILL TUESDAY

DEMOCRATS WILL CONFER WITH PRESIDENT ELECT WILSON AND GOV. ELECT DUNNE ABOUT IT

An Effort Will be Made to Get Wilson to Take a Hand in the Organization and Prevent Any Use of Patronage--Senator-ship is One Big Problem and Proves Stumbling Block for Efforts at Solution of the Situation--Republicans Make Sherman's Election Their Only Demand.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—The house today gave up its effort to elect a temporary speaker and went home. The motion to adjourn, submitted by Representative Karch after two additional ballots had been taken, was adopted unanimously. It had been agreed upon by all factions just as the session opened.

The house will do no business until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, although a temporary session will be held on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. As the senate will be back Tuesday, every effort will be made to bring about the breaking of the deadlock on that day in both houses.

The manifest futility of continuing balloting with no agreement of factions or parties was responsible for the decision to quit, but added to this was the desire of the democratic leaders to hurry to Chicago and confer with Governor-elect Dunne and President-elect Wilson, who will be in Chicago tomorrow.

Trouble Over Adjournment.

At the close of the day's balloting yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock, after twenty-four ballots had been taken, the house had great difficulty in adjourning until today.

Representative Seymour Stedman, one of the Socialist members, prepared a resolution calling for an adjournment until next Tuesday. There was an immediate storm.

Gorman of Peoria moved to table the motion.

Shanahan, Republican floor leader, arose to remark that Democrats all day had been trying to force the Republicans to take the responsibility of adjourning until Tuesday. He said the Republicans wouldn't do it.

Fitch Makes Suggestion.

George Fitch of Peoria, Progressive, advised more talk and less balloting, more conferring and less voting.

The resolution was tabled by Democratic votes, Republicans remaining silent.

Then an effort was made to adjourn until this morning and it was finally agreed after long fencing, that such action should be taken.

The twenty-fourth ballot last night showed practically no change in the temporary speakership fight from the eleventh ballot, the first taken in the morning.

TURKS STILL CLING TO ADRIANOPLE.

London, Jan. 10.—Peace now depends upon the fall of Adrianople and action by the powers of Europe. The allies are still determined to possess the "holy city" and Turkey shows no signs of surrender. The powers are waiting the result of representations to be made by their ambassadors to the Constantinople government next Monday.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES.

Washington, Jan. 10.—For Illinois: Rain Saturday; Sunday cloudy and colder; moderate south winds shifting to northwest by Sunday.

Republicans Stand Solid.

Homer Tice, candidate of the Republicans, is delighted with the stand that the party is taking.

"The splendid showing made by the Republicans is one of the most substantial evidence of the stability of the Republican party of any thing that has developed for years."

"Personally, I cannot express my appreciation of the compliment and honor shown me, but I fully realize and am proud of the fact that it is not merely personally that is receiving support from the party. The action of the Republican members on the speakership has given renewed courage and elevated the Republican party and put it on an active and determined footing."

Patronage an Issue.

The use of state and federal patronage in bringing about a settlement is said to be threatened by some of the leaders. Anti-Sullivanism is said to be the issue.

One suggestion of the day is that Governor-elect Dunne and President-elect Wilson, who will be in Chicago tomorrow, should confer with the Republican leaders to bring about a settlement.

Twenty-sixth Ballot.

Tice, 50; Rapp, 11; McLaughlin, 23; Ryan, 5; Hubbard, 18; Karch, 11; Carter, 25; Stedman, 3; McKinley, 7.

Try To Solve It.

Efforts at a solution of the situation were being made along a number of lines today. The senatorship remains the only stumbling block.

One suggestion of the morning was that the deadlock be continued until time to vote.

It is also proposed that the progressives throw their strength to a democratic side on the speakership and with the aid of the Hubbard and other democratic votes and a scattering republican support make a deal which they would be allowed to dictate the house rules without making any pledge on the senatorship. Such a deal is declared improbable.

Sherman the One Demand.

The Republicans are pledged to stand by Sherman for one of the senatorships. It is their only demand. They are willing to agree on any Lorimer crowd, provided an agreement can be made to send Sherman to the senate.

It is also possible that the progressives, in the interim between now and Tuesday will renege from their determination to refuse to pledge themselves on the senatorship. If they do this, an agreement can be effected with the republican and a few democrats which will give the progressives the house rules, send Sherman and a democrat to the senate and elect Tice or a democrat speaker.

It is generally agreed that if the Democrats are compelled to give up one of the senatorships to Sherman and the Sullivan forces bring about the deal, National Committeeman Boeschenstein and not Col. Lewis will go to the senate.

Roger Sullivan had intended going to Chicago, last night, but he remained over until today.

W. A. Hubbard Talks.

W. A. Hubbard, the "ultra-pure" Democratic candidate, declared that there shall be no compromise.

"The line is clearly drawn," he said today. "It is a question of principle, a question of whether or not political bosses shall organize and control the legislature, or whether or not the people shall control; a question of whether we will surrender to political highwaymen who are seeking the control of the legislature and the state."

"They cannot cloud the issue with the wet and dry question. They cannot cover it up with the senatorial question. It is a question of right and wrong. Our followers will accept no compromise of any kind that will in any wise effect this issue. We are here to fight it out if it takes all winter."

SOCIAL NIGHT AT THE MASONIC TEMPLE

MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL ARCH ACTED AS ROYAL HOSTS.

A Splendid Program Was Supplied by Members and Their Friends—Informal Reception With Refreshments Proved a Delightful Feature—Important Occasion in Masonic Circles.

Not long since members of Jacksonville Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, received an invitation for themselves and lady friends to be present at a New Year reception at Masonic Temple, Friday evening, Jan. 10. Though the night was stormy a large number came out and for a while the lodge room was a scene of social mirth and brilliant with ladies elegantly costumed and gentlemen in evening dress and all was pleasant and delightful. The hall was most superbly decorated with bunting flags and emblems while potted plants, flowers and ferns added to the beauty of the scene, making it one of surpassing loveliness, the prevailing scheme being red, the characteristic color of the order.

In due season Rev. F. A. McCarty was announced as chairman of the evening which is equivalent to saying that the important duties of that position were performed in a faultless manner.

Dunavan's orchestra supplied excellent music through the evening and came in for abundant praise for the quality of their work. Of the addresses given only a short outline is attempted.

Dr. McCarty as Toastmaster, in making the chair Dr. McCarty said: "It is with some embarrassment that I take this position for Royal Arch Masonry has no fuss and feather to offer you but we do want all to feel at home and cordially welcome and if these men knew how much better they look with their wives at their side they would want them along every time. They should not treat them as did the southern man who took a second wife. His slave was asked if his master would take a bride for him and he replied he didn't know whether he would take a bride to her or not; he only used a strap on his first wife. We fully appreciate the suitable place of fraternalism in the world and the good they accomplish which is great and Masonry is the first and the pattern of them all." The gentleman related several more humorous anecdotes and with appropriate remarks introduced each number on the program and all went well from start to finish.

"Masonry and the Church," Dr. George W. Miller of Woodson spoke on Masonry and the church. Many Masons are slow to take into account the intimate relation that should ever exist between the order and the church. Masonry is religion. The first question asked of a candidate is regarding his belief in Deity. He must humble himself before the great Creator and recognize in Him the Divine Source of all things. Every Mason is obligated on the holy bible which is presented to him as the rule and guide of his faith and practice. In the lodge all creeds and worldly distinctions are laid aside and we meet on the level as a band of brothers with one aim and purpose. It is truly good to be here tonight. Masonry is the mother of all human societies and all others bask in a light borrowed from her.

Two Special Numbers. A violin solo by Prof. Swarthout was next greatly enjoyed and though he gave two or three selections he was loudly encored and responded with excellent numbers. He is a fine artist.

Mrs. E. R. Frost next favored the audience with a reading, "A Christmas Star," which afforded the lady ample scope for the display of her remarkable and versatile talent and she rose grandly to the occasion and won laurels. First she depicted the innocent child anticipating the glad holiday and did it so well that one would have supposed it was her specialty. Then changing her costume she came out as a prima donna satiated with praise and success and singing for the quiet and peace she enjoyed when a child. The variety of emotions had full expression and Mrs. Frost showed wonderful versatility and a good memory too and her effort was fully appreciated.

Masonic Traditions. Principal Gore was assigned to the next number but sickness prevented his attendance and without warning Rev. G. W. Flagg was called on to take the place and speak on the traditional origin of Masonry. "I am glad to help out tonight though have had such brief notice. The Masons of the city have been very good to this Methodist preacher and he is willing to help out at a time like this. The origin of Masonry is traditional for all great movements are so started that the men engaged in them do not think about writing down for posterity what was done but are earnest in doing. The known origin of Masonry dates back to the building of King Solomon's temple and how much farther we do not know. Our ancient brethren erected a place for Jehovah and reverently worshipped the great Name. Some members do not fully catch the spirit of the order and realize what it means and how closely it is woven with religion. Masonry is suited to men of all classes and conditions. In its earlier days it attracted to it men of all ranks and so they were together without position or caste. The Man of Galilee humbled Himself and became one with the people about Him and the twelve who followed Him did the same. I am proud of the church and my part in it. Here it is militant and there it will be triumphant and I hope to have a part in it then. Masonry is the fountain head of all societies and I hope for the day when Jew and Gentile will meet fully as brothers and know no difference in religion.

Four Days Without Food or Shelter. After being marooned on Vendova Island which is uninhabited, for four days, without food, two Bellingham, Wash., business men, succeeded in reaching safety at Eliza Island the other day. The men removed their clothing and used it as a sail for their small launch, which had been wrecked by the gale. They drifted about the greater part of one night, battling water out of their boat constantly to prevent it from sinking.

Fur gloves and caps, a quarter off now, never so cheap. Knives.

If all were Masons and lived as they should there would be no wars for Masons could not fly at each others' throats. War is organized murder. In the spiritual temple we shall try to build, there will be the star of peace above the dome and the world will know we are one."

Mrs. W. Barr Brown then favored the audience with a solo most superbly rendered showing the remarkable vocal powers of the gifted musician. She was rapturously encored and kindly responded.

Masonry and the Home. Rev. W. L. Dorgan was the next speaker and had for his theme "Masonry and the Home." "I am glad to be here and discuss such a time honored theme as the home. It is the subject of the most gifted poets and supplies a theme for the brush of the greatest painters, and as we have gazed on the canvas we have had a feeling that it was not our own home. In the civil war the two armies were once opposite each other with a river between them and the bands of the union forces struck up "America" and the men cheered to the echo and it was followed by the confederate bands with Dixie which was loudly cheered by the other side but finally the bands on both sides struck up "Home, Sweet Home" at once all differences were forgotten and both sides cheered loudly for what was so dear to them. It is very important that all should understand that there is nothing in Masonry contrary or inimical to the home, but a sincere sympathy exists between them. Around the home Masonry would throw its protecting arms and bow its head and listen with reverence and bated breath as the fond mother coos to her babe in the cradle. We would impress on all the supremacy of truth. Masonry has no use for intemperance and the saloon and he who carries on one has no place in the order. Masonry is the guardian of the home and in all its best interests is its protector and careful guardian. It would protect the children, the mother and all the defenceless ones, for the relation between the lodge and the home is a holy one."

Other Program Features. The next number was a solo, "The Holy City," by John L. Johnson. This was certainly one of the most impressive and sublime numbers ever heard anywhere in lodge room, on stage or anywhere else. The gentleman has a splendid voice and sang that grand production in the most finished manner and during the rendering of the piece the lights were turned out and with a fine stereoscopic pictures illustrating the theme of the song were thrown on the canvass making an impression never to be forgotten.

The chair insisted that Companion T. P. Carter, chairman of the committee on arrangements, say something. The gentleman said the credit for the great success of the evening was due to all the members of the committee and the whole chapter which acted as boosters and he wondered what the committee would do next year to excel the program of the evening.

Again the orchestra played and after that Most Excellent High Priest, Jos. L. Whitaker was called on. He said he had his earnings mainly in the chapter in the conferring of degrees. At home he wasn't so much of a speaker not having the floor most of the time when there. He thanked the committee and all others who had helped make the affair a success and the formal program was ended.

The Social Hour. A social time followed varied by nice refreshments served by charming young ladies and much enjoyed by the guests.

The whole affair was a wonderful success especially when the condition of the weather is considered and the great credit on all concerned. The capable High Priest, Jos. L. Whitaker, helped everybody and had a large part in the outcome of the undertaking. The chairman of the committee of arrangements was T. P. Carter and the other members were J. C. Strawn, W. L. Shibe, J. L. Johnson, W. L. Ransdell, E. C. Ransdell, R. I. Dunlap, J. W. Boyd, J. R. Phillips, F. C. Benson, J. H. Jackson, W. B. Adkins.

E. C. Ransdell and J. W. Boyd had the decorations especially in charge directed the admirable work and John R. Phillips was the caterer.

The officers of the chapter are: E. H. P. - Jos. L. Whitaker. K. - W. L. Shibe. S. - W. L. Ransdell. P. O. H. - Julius G. Schram. P. S. - T. P. Carter. R. A. C. - J. H. Jackson. M. 3 V. - J. A. THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW REGARDING TOILET PREPARATIONS.

Lotions that are to be used daily should not contain free oils and grease, they should be free from gums that cause the lotion to dry too rapidly. These things clog up the skin pores, stopping circulation, making the skin rough and sluggish.

ROBERTS' ALMOND CREAM does not have any of the above, but instead, it opens the pores and is absorbed immediately. Invigorating, refreshing and delightful to use. Skin trouble disappears when Roberts' Almond Cream is used. Try this high class Lotion under our guarantee. Large bottle, 35c.

BREAKING UP A COLD is easily accomplished if you use the proper remedy. Roberts' Cold Tablets is that remedy, 25c.

IF YOU HAVE SOAP TROUBLE try Lava Oil Buttermilk or our Cocoa Castile hard water soap. These break the water, thus keeping the skin soft; 3 bars, 25c.

Short Lengths of Silks, Cotton and Wool Dress

Goods at Below Actual Cost to Manufacture.

When we began to invoice a few weeks ago we marked down to actual cost every remnant we came across in preparation for this sale. But now stock-taking is over we find the accumulation larger than we had expected. Now these remnants must be gotten rid of in short order, and to make sure that this week will mark their exodus we have decided to make an additional reduction of 25 per cent off the marked price, which will be taken off at time of purchase. This brings prices far below the cost to manufacture and is the lowest figure we have ever placed on merchandise of any kind. Of Interest to Journal Readers.
For months Jacksonville citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Jacksonville residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Jacksonville reader.

John Minter, 423 South East St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I know them to be worthy of praise. I have been telling of my experience with this remedy ever since 1897. I took Doan's Kidney Pills for pain in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble and found them effective. I always advise the use of this remedy when I have an opportunity."

Mr. Kite had been a sufferer from rheumatism and his friends here believe that his heart was suddenly affected resulting in his speedy death. Mr. Kite had been employed as an expert by the Burnap company for a great many years and it was he who superintended the building of the Jacksonville creamery plant. He was in Jacksonville for a number of months and made a number of pleasant friendships here and the news of his death will be received with sorrow. Mr. Kite is survived by one daughter at whose home in Toledo he died. He had recently been engaged in some special work at Humboldt, Kan., and intended to stop here on the way east for a few days visit but the condition of his health would not permit it.

RECALLS FIGHT WITH INDIANS

Record of Fort Ridgely Fight is Preserved in Special Edition Issued by the Fairfax Standard.

St. Paul.—In commemoration of the battle of Fort Ridgely which occurred Aug. 22, 1862, Asa M. Wallace, a deputy state fire marshal and publisher of the Fairfax Standard, has issued a special edition of his paper, in which he gives a full account of the incidents which led up to the brief but bloody war between the white settlers and Indians around New Ulm, Redwood Falls, or Redwood Agency, as the place was known then, located about seven miles south of the present town of Fairfax.

The souvenir edition is nearly printed on heavy book paper, and there are a number of illustrations. Several special articles are contributed by well-known men who were in Minnesota at the time, and some of whom took part in the battles. Then there are reports from the officers in command; Lieut. John F. Bishop at Redwood, with the heroic Captain Marsh, Lieut. T. J. Sheehan at Fort Ridgely, Col. C. F. Flandrau at New Ulm, and others. The battles are said to have been among the most bloody of those fought between the whites and Indians. Over 3,000 men, women and children fell victims to the savages. The struggle attracted little attention at the time, for the Civil war was in progress, but it was no less important than bloody, for it subdued the savages and saved southwestern Minnesota to the whites.

HIRES HUSBAND FROM JAIL

Wife Purchases Convicted Man's Services for $500 a Month—Spouse Sold Liquor.

Asheville, N. C.—Placing a much higher value on his services than any one else, Mrs. P. H. Thrash hired her husband from the board of county commissioners for one month for $500, strictly cash in advance.

Thrash, a man worth $50,000 and well connected, had been found guilty of keeping liquor to sell to retailers in his prohibition section and sentenced by Judge Long in superior court to pay a fine of $2,000, costs amounting to $400 and to be imprisoned in jail thirty days; but upon the tearful petition of the wife the judge stipulated that if the county commissioners chose to do so they might hire the defendant for his term to the highest bidder, but not less than $500.

The board decided to take the money and in default of other bids the defendant was struck off to the wife for $500, which she promptly paid.

WHOSE WIFE WORKS MOST?

Farmer's or City Man's?—Agriculture School of Missouri to Find Out.

Columbia, Mo.—How much work and how much harder work is done by the farmer's wife than the housewife in the city?

The Missouri School of Agriculture has taken up the problem and is gathering its statistics from the farm women.

"We desire to get an accurate idea of just what the farmer's wife does," said Prof. D. H. Doane. "The data will show how much they work and how much time they spend in recreation."

"The object is to find out how much should be credited to the farmer's living. The record will show how well the farmer and his family live compared with the professional man and his family."

BIG FLOCK OF WHITE SWANS

Twenty Pounders Shot in a Line-Up an Eighth of a Mile Long on the Susquehanna River.

York, Pa.—Gunners along the Susquehanna river are making the most of a visit of big white swans.

A flock in which seventy-seven of the stately birds were counted was seen upon the swollen stream near Long Level. The birds were spread out in a file about an eighth of a mile long. Two that were killed by the Lucas brothers, residing in this vicinity, each tipped the scale at twenty pounds.

In four shots John Shank, pilot of the Wild Cat Falls ferryboat, killed three swans and crippled a fourth. The three birds weighed forty pounds, the largest being a seventeen pounder.

The West and New York.

What is "The West"? How many various and surprising individualities are included in these words? New York can see through a millstone if it has a hole in it, but she is less apt to jump at conclusions than some other communities; she wants to "be shown" quite as earnestly as Missouri; perhaps she can "understand the West" quite as intelligently as "The West" can understand New York.—New York Evening Sun

Before or After.

"I thought that in the 18 years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible foolish question, but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed liniment—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the surgery, but returned in a few minutes, poked his head in the doorway, and asked: 'Shall I drop this in the eye before meals, or after?'"

FOUR WOULD BE SPEAKER

Illegal Registrations Cause Resignation of Kaempf—Another Election Is Planned in Germany.

Berlin.—The German imperial parliament has made a record in the selection of a speaker by having four contestants for the position.

The third speaker this session, Dr. Johannes Kaempf, has resigned his seat on account of doubt cast on the validity of his election.

Dr. Kaempf was elected as a radical from the first district of Berlin by a majority of only nine out of a total vote of over 11,000. His Socialist opponent, Editor S. Duwell, demanded a recount, which reduced Dr. Kaempf's majority to six, but also showed 16 cases of doubtful registration. The reichstag committee on elections decided to investigate these. As the German practice assumes that all illegal ballots were cast for the successful candidate, Dr. Kaempf anticipated an adverse report of the committee by resigning, in order to stand again before parliament reassembles. His Socialist opponent in the election again was Editor Duwell, and as Colonel Gaedke, the well-known military writer, also ran again on the Democratic ticket, a second ballot will be required.

Dr. Kaempf was elected president in succession to the clerical leader, Dr. Martin Spahn, who resigned rather than sit with the Socialist vice-president, Philipp Scheidemann. After an unsteady six weeks' tenure of office, made notable by Emperor William's refusal to receive Dr. Kaempf as president, a third election was held, at which Dr. Kaempf retained the presidency, but Vice-President Scheidemann, whose half-forgotten epigram charging the Hohenzollerns with faithlessness to their plighted work proved his undoing, was forced out, to be succeeded by the National Liberal, Hermann S. Paasche.

ASK CLEAN LANGUAGE LEAGUE

Kansas City Men Are Working on Plans Similar to Those of Chicagoans.

Kansas City, Mo.—Kansas City is to have a new organization to work for ends here similar to those being striven for by the Clean Language league in Chicago. The organization is to be perfected by the local ministerial alliance in conjunction with the Young Men's Christian association and other associations.

Committees were appointed by the Methodist Ministers' alliance and the Presbyterian Ministers' alliance to begin active work toward crystallizing the plans forwarded by persons interested in making efforts toward renovating the language of the city's streets, through education of the public. Practically all the ministers of the city have expressed themselves as anxious for the formation of the organization.

SPANKED HIS WIFE; IS SUED

B. R. Nueske of Chicago Is Defendant in a Separate Maintenance Action.

Chicago.—Her husband spanked her and other indignities were suffered at his hands, according to the separate maintenance bill of Mrs. Grace Nueske against Bernard R. Nueske, filed in the superior court. Nueske is said to have an income of $6,000 annually from contract work for life insurance companies.

Nueske's ill treatment of her began on the day of their wedding, June 2, 1906, at St. Louis, as they were about to take the train for Chicago on their honeymoon trip, the bill says. He became angry because her mother and sister went to the depot to see them off, began to growl and quarrel and finally the trip was abandoned, the bill says.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

FOR MRS. G. W. MACKIE

Sorrowing Friends Gathered at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Stevenson.

The funeral of Mrs. G. W. Mackie was held Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Stevenson, of Prospect, where a large company of intimate friends and relatives of the deceased and the family. The services because of the circumstances surrounding the death bringing to an end so suddenly a useful and beautiful life were especially impressive. Dr. S. M. Morton of Taylorville, a former pastor of Westminster church and a very close friend of the family, was in charge of the services and was assisted by Rev. L. H. Davis.

Suitable and comforting passages of scripture were read by Rev. Mr. Davis and then Miss Katherine Rogers sang very beautifully with Miss Marian Taylor as accompanist. "When They Ring Those Golden Bells For You and Me."

Dr. Morton said he would speak very briefly in a personal way of the young woman whom he had known and loved and who had with suddenness been called to the heavenly home. "Emma Mae Stevenson was born March 27, 1878, on the farm near Little Indian, a few miles north of Jacksonville. Her early life was spent there and her later years here. She united with Westminster church several years ago and was faithful in church work, including service in the Sunday school and choir. She was married to Dr. G. W. Mackie at Lexington, Ky., Dec. 24, 1908, a little over four years ago. The parents and one brother survive to mourn her loss. The brother, Harry, is far away on the Pacific coast. The relationship between the deceased and her husband were especially close and now he is left desolate. And now so suddenly in the midst of a useful life she has been snatched away from us. After a brief illness of two weeks she fell sweetly and painlessly asleep."

In a brief address Dr. Morton very beautifully and impressively pointed out the certainty of death and the reality of the hope there is for all those who live justly and faithfully in all things. A few paragraphs from the address are given here:

"We are here reminded that 'death happeneth alike to all.' The fiat of fate is inexorable. There is no appeal for relief from the great law that dooms us to the dust. We flourish and fade as the leaves of the forest that bloom and wither in a day; they have no truer hold on life than the mightiest monarch that ever shook the earth with his footsteps. Old and young alike are subject to the summons which none may disobey. And the multitudes that throng the world today will soon disappear, as the footsteps on the shore."

"Men seldom think of the great event of death until the shadow falls across their own pathway, hiding from their eyes the faces of loved ones, whose loving smile was the sunlight of their existence. Death is the antagonist of life; and the cold thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all feasts. Here among these graves today we are made fully to realize that 'man was born to die.' Surrounded by these narrow houses appointed for all the living we are persuaded of the emptiness of all things earthly, and the vanity of everything except character and conduct that merit the approval of God and man."

"O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? Like a swift-fleeting meteor, a fast-flying cloud. A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave, Man passes from life to his rest in the grave."

"Man truly is born to die; 'he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth.' But death does not end all. The scriptures teach us, that even though a man die, yet shall he live again. Jesus said, 'I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he die, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.' 'The Christian has hope in all things; and where the hope is brightest, and in death the hope of resurrection comes to our relief. Nature itself speaks to the observing mind of resurrection. The sun that went down in darkness and gloom last evening rose again in fresh brightness and glory this morning. The glad earth each spring time arrays itself in garments of green and bloom, after the bare, brown months of winter."

"And not only the soul, but everything good, endures. All that is valuable in human life and character shares man's immortality. Life's wayside is strewn with the graves of our buried treasures, our failures, and our dead hopes. These, too, shall rise again. Every right thought, every earnest purpose, every honest prayer, though apparently unanswered, has left an impress on the character that can not perish. And every brotherly deed performed has made the door richer for time and eternity. Not only is the individual immortal; but the principles that bind together such organizations as yours—mutual esteem and helpfulness and loving sympathy, in health and sickness, in prosperity and affliction, are likewise immortal. And the humble torch of loving fellowship and kindly sympathy which she has kindled here shall never lose its luster, but shall blaze effulgent among the radiant stars and sons of God's higher heaven, that are for ever and ever. And the deeds of helpfulness which she has performed here shall live and multiply their influence through the ages."

"Let us all, then, take comfort from these high considerations. And while we here express our tender and loving sympathy for the bereaved family and friends of the departed, let us heed the warning of our frailty, and remember the shortness of our time here on earth. Let us put away self-seeking and undue ambition; and live only to do good and become better, remembering that, in view of death and the judgment, it is not what we get and have, but what we are and do, that is of supreme importance."

Dr. Morton closed with a few words of earnest prayer. From the house the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery, where Mrs. Mackie was laid gently to rest in a grave covered with flowers. The bearers were Dr. C. E. Scott, Messrs. Harry Myers, Edward Stevenson, G. C. Guthrie, J. H. Russell and Clarence Boston. The flowers were in charge of Mrs. Fred Stevenson, Miss Alice Green and Vivian Boston.

Among persons here for the funeral were Mrs. S. M. Morton, Taylorville; Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Kirby, Springfield; Samuel Montgomery and Miss Lou Montgomery, Petersburg; Mrs. Edwin Beggs, Ashland; Mrs. E. M. Dale, Virginia; Miss Flora Scott, Monticello; J. B. Stevenson, St. Louis.

MUCH IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

Man Likely to Succeed Venerable Francis Joseph is Now Much Talked of.

Vienna, Jan. 10.—The disquieting reports concerning the venerable emperor's state of health and the rumors of his rapid decline which, in view of the advanced years of the beloved monarch, are generally credited, have brought Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir presumptive to the throne of the dual monarchy, into the limelight as the coming "man of the hour." In view of the complicated relations existing between the rival countries and races included in Austria-Hungary and of the fact that the personality and character of the future ruler alone is believed to be able to prevent the eventual disruption of the monarchy, it is quite natural that the public is more than ever interested in the individual traits, ideas, prejudices and tendencies of the heir to the throne who may at any moment be called upon to assume the reins of government.

Archduke Francis Ferdinand was not born to the throne. When Archduke Rudolf, the only son of the emperor, met his death at Mayerling on Jan. 30, 1889, the succession to the throne, in accordance with the Austrian law of succession, devolved upon Archduke Karl Ludwig, the emperor's younger brother. Karl Ludwig died about ten or twelve years ago and his son, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, became heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne.

Francis Ferdinand was born December 18, 1863, as the oldest of the five children of Archduke Karl Ludwig. He received a good education, scientific and literary as well as military, and in later years gave evidence of some literary ability and inventive genius. He is credited with being the author of several books of travel and a volume of poetry and is of considerable musical ability, as a performer as well as a composer.

He developed into an excellent horseman and reinsman and, like most of the Hapsburgs, is fond of hunting and an excellent shot.

There was a time when his health was rather delicate and it was feared that he had consumption, but a year in Egypt and continual outdoor life and travel in different climates restored his health and overcame whatever tendency toward consumption he may have had. To prepare him for the duties connected with his future position as emperor-king Francis Ferdinand years ago was made the right hand man of the emperor and brought in close touch with every department of the government. From five to eight hours a day he was kept at his duties and it is believed that the heir to the throne is now in every way fully prepared to assume the responsibilities of ruler.

Francis Ferdinand has rarely ever come in direct contact with the people of the monarchy over which he is soon to rule. It is said that he has an extremely exalted opinion of his rank, that the common people are mere cattle in his estimate and that he thoroughly despises any leaning toward democracy or liberalism. He is a devout Roman Catholic and has the reputation of being extremely intolerant in religious matters. It is an open secret that the archduke's sympathies are neither with the German speaking element of the monarchy nor with the Hungarians, but with the Czechs and the natural result of this knowledge is that neither the Germans nor the Hungarians are particularly enthusiastic upon the subject of their future ruler. It is believed that his parasitic inclinations will soon bring him into serious conflict with the non-slavic elements of this heterogeneous conglomerate of countries and races and will encourage the Czechs, who have always been jealous of the exceptional position of the Hungarians, to precipitate a crisis in the hope of accomplishing their ends.

Francis Ferdinand is said to be, in many respects, a much stronger character than the emperor. But he is reported to be far more reactionary than Francis Joseph ever was, more bigoted, more absolutistic and more aggressive. These characteristics, together with the fact that his inorganic marriage to Countess Chotek, who has since been elevated to the rank of Princess of Hohenberg and still later to the rank of an Austrian archduchess with the title of imperial highness, has complicated the situation existing in regard to the future succession to the throne, do not augur well for a peaceful disposition of the internal affairs of the dual monarchy under his reign and those throughly conversant with the existing political conditions of Austria-Hungary are inclined to take a rather gloomy view of the future.

CHANGE IN MOTOR CAR SERVICE.

On Sunday, Jan. 12, the C. P. & St. L. railroad will make some radical change in motor car service and minor changes in other passenger trains. The demand for this service from nearby points south of Springfield is so strong that it has been decided to operate the service between Petersburg, Waverly and Springfield, discontinuing all motor car service between Petersburg and Havana, where there are three passenger trains each way every day. The motor car will start from Petersburg about 6:45 a. m. for Springfield, stopping at Tice, Athens, Cantrill and Andrew and will continue on to Waverly, returning immediately to Springfield from Waverly, stopping at Loami, Curran and other smaller towns, reaching Springfield about 10 a. m. The balance of the schedule has not yet been fully decided upon. Another feature of the change is that special motor car service will be available on Sunday for special parties.

OLIVE TABLETS OIL THE BOWELS

A Physician's Substitute for Dangerous Calomel.

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects.

Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice, treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil-colored tablets. Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels just enough to start nature's own action and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work like a vacation.

"Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

C., Jan. 10.—With honors befitting his achievement, Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, will be entertained in this city tomorrow night as the principal guest at the annual banquet of the National Geographic society. Captain Amundsen will be presented with a special gold medal awarded by the society in recognition of his achievements in south polar exploration. The address of presentation will be made by Rear Admiral Peary of north pole fame. The ceremony will be witnessed by a distinguished company that will include the president of the United States and members of his cabinet, justices of the supreme court of the United States, senators and representatives, the diplomatic corps, and members of the society from many parts of the country.

U. S. G. A. ANNUAL MEETING.

New York Jan. 10.—Golfers are arriving from all directions to attend the annual meeting of the United States Golf association to be held tomorrow night at the Hotel Astor. The ticket of officers for the ensuing year as presented by the nominating committee is expected to go through without opposition according to the usual custom. Several changes have been made since the ticket was first announced. Robert C. Watson, H. Strawn of the Glenview club, Chicago, who has been president two years, Milton Dargan of Atlanta, now second vice-president, is to take the place of Joseph S. Clark of Philadelphia in the first vice-presidency, while Frank L. Woodward of Denver is to become second vice-president. John Reid, Jr., of the St. Andrew's Gold club, is to succeed Mr. Watson as secretary, and Percy R. Pyne, of the Garden City Golf club, is to become treasurer. The most important business of the meeting will be the selection of the courses for the championship tournaments this year. Half a dozen of the leading golf clubs of the east are bidding for the national amateur championship, which is the event most sought. The tournament was held last year in the west.

BUILDING BRICK ROADS IN SEVERAL STATES

Ohio and New York Have Lead in Work—Danville Citizen Tells of Conditions in Old Country.

The new brick roads in the country near Paris, Newman and Danville, Illinois, are attracting considerable attention just at this time of the year. Other communities which have enjoyed good roads in summer but must now give them up in winter, are naturally envious of these favored spots in Illinois where the good road continues throughout the whole year, regardless of weather. Anybody can have a fair road in the summer time—if it don't rain—but only the people along the permanent pavement can forget the weather.

Winter is usually a source of dread to every farmer in the black lands of Illinois. He knows that the roads will become locked up, too deep in frozen ruts or soft mud to permit comfortable travel. In fact they become impassable for travel of any kind, although this year has been an exception.

Many brick roads have been built in New York state and Ohio, especially in the vicinity of Cleveland in the latter state. Business men in the city of Cleveland live out as far as fifteen miles, on their farms, and daily drive to and from the city. That county has one thousand miles of brick roads.

In the last ten years land values in the country about Cleveland has increased from $172,000,000 to $605,519,000—nearly four times in value. Much of the increase is conceded to be due to the system of permanent roads. Illinois is just waking up to the importance of such roads, and what they mean in the way of rural comforts and values.

Much is heard these days about the movement "back to the farm and back to the soil," the source of all human sustenance. A revolution is taking place in transportation and intercommunication. It was a slow movement years ago, when the railroads were first being built, but later came the fast mail, the express, then the telegraph, next the telephone and rural mail delivery; and last and greatest of all, the self-propelled motor. All these serve to bring the people into closer communication.

The motor is working a revolution in agricultural methods. It is predicted that soon the motor post coach will collect, transport, deliver and bring back passengers and packages; and that the motor truck will soon convey the products of the farm to the markets, in greater quantities and without loss of time. All this calls for better highways, permanent highways which will be open all the year, a demand which will come equally from the country and from the city, as each are equally benefited.

C. U. Reikamp, of Danville, Illinois, recently visited the place of his birth in Germany, and saw again a brick road built in that country forty-five years ago, when he was a lad. He says the road is still in good condition, bearing up the daily traffic of an important highway.

TAX SYSTEM ANTIQUATED.

The Uniform Tax Rule Places Burden on Real Estate.

Condemnation of the general property tax with its rule of strict uniformity in the taxation of all kinds of property regardless of character has been voiced by experts in other states as well as in Illinois.

"The attempt to tax all property by a uniform rule results in the placing of burdens of taxation upon real estate," says Allen B. Foote of Columbus, Ohio, for many years president of the National Tax association. "All who are intelligently endeavoring to improve the tax systems of the several states are concentrating their efforts upon securing constitutional amendments that will permit a classification of the subjects of taxation and thus remove the obstacles to tax reform always presented by the uniform rule of the general property tax."

Wherever classification is permitted, and a very low rate placed upon intangible property, the revenue from this source is invariably increased enormously.

Great Mass of Property Escapes. Harrison B. Riley of the Illinois special tax commission says of the need for the tax amendment to the constitution: "The taxing system of Illinois is antiquated, unequal, inequitable and unenforceable except as against real estate and fixed personal property. The land, cattle and machinery of the farmer are reached and taxed as is the furniture of the small householder, but the great mass of personal property wholly escapes taxation owing to the fact that the constitution and laws of the state make that result inevitable."

The Oregon tax commission's report (1905) said: "The investigation of the reports of the commissions of other states clearly shows that the general property tax results in the placing of the burdens of taxation upon real property. And that is true in this state. Under its operation the tax falls largely upon visible personal property, and that, too, in the hands of those that pay the tax on real property."—H. A. McKeene, secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute.

THAT BAD COLD.

Vapor Treatment Surely Does Clean Out That Stuffed Up Head.

Don't try to break up a cold with dangerous stomach disturbing drugs. Get directly to the inflamed membrane by breathing HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei). Get a bottle for 50c at Coover & Shreve's and try this rapid and economical treatment that thousands are using.

Into a bowl of boiling water pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe deep into the lungs the healing vapor that arises.

Breathe this vapor for five or ten minutes until the head feels free and clear, then go to bed and sleep soundly until morning. No cocaine or opium or harmful drugs in HYOMEI. It is made of Australian Eucalyptus and other antiseptics. It is guaranteed to end catarrh, or any back.

SAVE THE WHEAT.

A Novel Way to Rescue From Ice Covering.

Frank P. Taylor, the well known traveling man said that he came across a novel way in which to save a wheat crop. While traveling in the north part of the state he met a farmer who had a peculiar experience with his wheat last year. The gentleman had eighty acres covered solidly with ice after the disastrous sleet storm of March second and conceived the idea of passing a heavy roller over it. He went over about half the field and concluded to go no farther and stopped.

The part that was rolled yielded a good crop and the rest was a blank failure.

HIT CONTRACT LABOR

Prison Heads Think Convicts Should Work for State.

Some of Subjects Should Be Trained, Others Used for Gain, Is Idea Advanced in Reports Given at Jailers' Congress.

Baltimore.—The contract system of prison labor was condemned in the report of the committee on prison labor presented at the congress of the American Prison association in annual session here. The committee, however, recommended the system when no other means of employment could be provided, believing it preferable to idleness.

The employment of prisoners, the report maintained, should be directed entirely by the state and the products of this labor should be disposed of by the state.

The first consideration of every organization, the report continued, should be the training of the prisoner, and, after that, financial results. Every prison should be so classified that a certain group of men should at all times be provided with work on farms, roads and other outside work, and a larger portion of each prison should be employed on the state account system.

The committee believed it possible for every state having a population of two million inhabitants or more to employ all its convict population in the manufacture of articles for the use of state and its political divisions.

James H. Leonard, superintendent of the Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield, was elected president of the association, and Dr. D. C. Peyton, Jeffersonville, Ind., vice-president. Those re-elected were: Secretary, H. H. Trenton, N. J.; financial secretary, H. H. Shirer, Columbus, Ohio; treasurer, Frederick H. Mills, New York.

MONTE CARLO SEASON IS ON

Much Gambling, but No Streaks of Luck Reported at Noted Resort.

Monte Carlo.—Not only Monte Carlo, but Nice, Cannes, Mentone and all the other resorts along the Riviera have begun their seasons. And everywhere the season promises to be a record breaker. The number of villas rented is unusually large, while the hotel proprietors say their bookings are better than in any year they can remember.

Here in Monte Carlo the number of bookings during the week was large and there was also much gambling, although no big winnings or losses were reported. The men and women who are noted for plunging in the Casino and at the sporting club have not arrived as yet.

The work of dredging the western part of the port, which began last May, has now been completed. This is the part of the harbor given over to yachts, and now craft of all sizes may anchor quite close to the shore. The work on the new yacht quay is being pushed ahead rapidly, but it is doubtful if it is completed before next year.

FIVE MONTHS SPORT OF SEAS

Oil Barge Woodhall, Long Believed Lost, Arrives at Trinidad, According to Message.

New York.—After battling for five months on a seemingly shipless ocean, Capt. Edwin L. Smith of London has arrived at Trinidad with the fifty-five foot oil barge Woodhall, from English shippers, according to word received by friends here. Smith dared to pilot the little barge on her perilous trip, which was proposed to save the expense of towing, where a dozen other London skippers feared to try it. It was expected that the trip could be made in forty days, but she met adverse weather and was the sport of the seas. In the meantime the boat had been given up as lost.

According to the report received here the captain found an American stowaway on board, who helped to deplete the meager supply of provisions. During the last few days the crew had to live on a biscuit and half a cup of fresh water a day, as they were unable to sight a ship to aid them.

Most Crowded City.

In a report to the Society of Medical Jurisprudence, Prof. Elgin Gould, a sociological expert, says New York city is the most crowded metropolis in the world. "The greatest evil in New York is overcrowding," he says. "There is no city in the world that compares with it in that respect. There are many blocks here 800 by 200 feet, in which from 2,500 to 4,800 persons are living. In one block in the negro district 5,000 persons are living. Bombay, next worst in this respect, is more than half behind New York, and London is only one-third as bad off."

Fires In Jacksonville

Monday's Courier had the following:

ROOF CATCHES FIRE

"Saturday evening the roof of the residence of Newton Sargent at 350 West Court street caught fire about 6:30 o'clock, burning a small hole. The fire department was called, but a Babcock extinguisher was used by a member of the department in putting out the fire."

Tuesday's Journal tells of a fire at 302 North East street, caused by a coal oil lamp, at which a woman was badly burned. The Journal says: "In the meanwhile the fire department was called and extinguished the fire with the chemical."

Only lack of information prevents EVERY HOME having its own Babcock. The cost is small; anybody can use it; it is always ready. There is nothing scary about it, and if you call at our office, 119 South West street, we will be glad to explain it to you fully.

BABY IN GREAT MISERY WITH RASH

On Face, Spread Until Nearly All Over Body, Crust on Head. Hair Fell Out, Itch Terrible. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Monroe, Wis.—"When my baby was six weeks old there came a rash on his face which finally spread until it got nearly all over his body. It formed a crust on his head, hair fell out and the itch was terrible. When he would scratch the crust the water would ooze out in big drops. On face and body it was in a dry form and would scale off. He was in great misery and at nights I would lay awake holding his hands so that he could not scratch and disfigure himself. I tried simple remedies at first, then got medicine, but it did no good. Finally a friend suggested Cuticura Remedies, so I got a sample to see what they would do, when to my surprise after a few applications I could see an improvement, and he would rest better. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and before I had them half used my baby was cured. His head is now covered with a luxuriant growth of hair and his complexion is admired by everybody and has no disfigurements. I hope other mothers will profit by my experience and not be worn out with poor babies who are tortured with skin and scalp affections." (Signed) Mrs. Annie Saunders, Sept. 29, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

For tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

LETTER FROM SOUTHLAND

(By D. K. McCarty).

Citronelle, Ala., Jan. 7, 1913.
Editor Journal: We are luxuriating in the southland and do not feel one bit homesick yet, but we do think and talk every day of our many good friends who are living in the good old state of Illinois. If we did not think of these good people we would not be bothering you with our letters. We want to thank the Journal for the great privilege of reaching so many of our friends through this medium. If we were compelled to write a letter to each individual we certainly would be up against something big. We would like for everyone who reads our letters to feel that they are to them, as much as if we were writing to them individually.

We, after a few days' sojourn at the Hyera hotel, felt that we would like to be a little more exclusive and rented a cottage from an amiable widow woman by the name of Spratt, no kin to Jack Spratt who could eat no fat, on Magnolia avenue, in the best and prettiest part of the little city, where we are as busy as two mice, keeping house a la south. It has been a source of much fun to us to keep house in this fashion; when we order a nickel's worth of potatoes, one loaf of bread, a nickel's worth of celery and on through the whole program; but when one gets used to it, it is fine, for we always have things fresh. We were always lucky in finding good people and this place is no exception; our nearest neighbor, Mr. Russell, furnishes us milk; they have four nice girls, are Christian people and we think much of them. Our first caller was the Methodist minister, Rev. Mr. Eckford, and it made us feel like we were really keeping house when we had a Methodist preacher visiting us.

Citronelle has a population of 1,200; about 1,000 white. They are well supplied with churches, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian and Episcopalians. We have attended services at the Methodist and Christian churches, where we found a thriving Sunday school at each and heard excellent sermons at both. The population almost doubles during the winter season, people coming from all over the north to spend a few months in the balmy air and quiet of the place. A great many come for the benefit of their health, believing they reap much good from the pure water and the ozone laden air. The city is built on a high ridge thirty-three miles from Mobile, on the main line of the Mobile & Ohio railroad, in a forest of the long leaf yellow pine, with a sprinkling of live oak. Nature has been exceedingly good to this place. It is naturally well drained, plenty of the best water in the world and a soil that will produce almost anything. The streets are not up to date, but could be made the best in the south with the least money. They never get muddy, neither do they get dusty, as we know dust in Morgan county.

The town is well supplied with business houses; one bank, several dry goods and grocery stores, one good drug store, hardware, real estate and other business that goes to make up a town of this size. We did not count the saloons, for the reason that the Law and Order league is waging a deadly war with it and expect to run it out of town in a few more days. They have been fighting for a year, but it seems a hard thing to fight when the courts are always willing to give the whiskey men the benefit of every doubt. The league is gritty; they have carried their fight up to the supreme court and now believe they are about to reap the reward of their labors.

We had the pleasure of attending one of their meetings Sunday afternoon and were well pleased to see the interest these men are taking to keep the city clean.

We have had the pleasure of meeting many fine people here who make this their permanent home; a notable one the mayor, Mr. C. W. Thomas, editor of the Citronelle Call, a young man of backbone and a Christian; he has been very kind to us in many ways. We have also met several Jacksonville people here, Ross Chambers, his sister and husband, Mr. Pick; E. G. Bradley, real estate and insurance; the Herbals and a Mr. B. who taught our Sunday school class last Sunday. We also met a very interesting gentleman from Chicago by the name of Turney. Mr. Turney worked for many years on the Chicago Tribune and was well acquainted with S. W. Nichols. So you can see that we have been pretty busy during our two weeks stay with these good people and we believe if we should conclude to settle permanently we would turn the city over to us and let us run it, for a while at least.

Citronelle has a large chautauqua auditorium, situated in a very romantic place, where they hold their exercises in March. They have a fine program for this year, commencing March 16 and ending on the 24th. Many people come from a distance to attend.

The public school here is good and there are a great many children for a town of this size. We have been very pleasantly entertained by the children. Some have Angora goats which they work to little wagons and sometimes use them for saddlers, but they are not a success in either line, going away from home they need a good deal of coaxing and sometimes it is necessary to use the butt. Our northern children would envy a Christmas down here, where they could pluck roses, tumble each other on the grass and eat a Christmas tree at their leisure. In taking our daily walks after Christmas we saw many discarded trees in the streets; it seemed that every picnicky in the place had been the proud possessor of a Christmas tree.

A great many of our northern people object to living in the south in excess of the colored population. A short sojourn at Citronelle would convince one that this problem has been solved to the satisfaction of both races here. The two races have nothing whatever to do with each other, except in a business way. The colored people have their churches with colored ministers, their schools with colored teachers, their room at the spot, their car in the train and their entrance at the saloons. They are respectful toward the whites, good workers, when under a boss, know their place and are careful to keep in it. You never see the white and colored children mixing no more than you would see chickens and hawks mixing. We have talked with several colored men of the town for the purpose of getting wise on all subjects and we have found them well informed and a good many questions. We inspected the turpentine still and got much information from the colored workmen; we also went into the timber, where they were making ready to sear the trees for the crude turpentine and rosin and procured many facts from these industrious people, who always treat us with perfect respect. This goes to prove that you need not have any scruples about the race problem at Citronelle. The colored people are a benefit instead of a detriment, and a town in the south without a colored population would be like pie crust without shortening.

The roses in our front yard are blooming every day and Mrs. McCarty has pots of them all over the house. She wants to make use of as many as possible. We have but one fear of the south; we can stand the snakes and alligators, the bears, wild cats and panthers, but we are afraid of that awful microbe, the hook worm. When we first commenced keeping house we bought a load of pine wood sawed in stove lengths; all we had to do was to split it and that was only fun, but when we made our first fire we filled the stove as full of wood as it would hold and being very rich in turpentine, there was a fire that went far beyond our most sanguine expectations; in fact we came very near melting the old stove and burning down the cottage. You ought to have seen that stove chuffing and catching her breath, while the black smoke rolled out of the chimney like a hundred ton engine burning soft coal. We turned the damper and the blaze almost tore the top off the stove and filled the room with a smoke so dense that we could have cut it in chunks with our jack knife. Mrs. Spratt came over and made us wise on the use of pine wood. She said we would have to get a load of oak wood and mix it with the pine. We did so. Our oak came in four foot lengths and we thought we could get a good exercise shopping it into stove lengths and commenced, but the axe was dull, the wood hard and the sun came out and smote us on the back; the sweat came out like an April shower and we could feel the hook worm microbes in the air, and we put the axe away and now we are looking for a darkey boy to cut that oak wood. We have written to Dr. Obermeyer of Arendia on this subject and he assures us that he can head off the hook worm and has started the medicine several days ago, but we have not received it yet;

A group of girls in a pretty singing and dancing number in "The Girl, The Man and The Game," at Grand's this afternoon and night.

If we do not receive it in a few days we will accuse Joe, the mail man, of appropriating it to his own use, as he is the only one we know of, up there, that could use it to advantage.

We will not have the space in this letter to tell you anything about the farming possibilities of this section; would like to write another letter from here touching on that subject. Neither are we going to tell you in this letter to come down here to make money or better your business facilities; we will settle that in our next letter. We are going to invite those to come to Citronelle who have passed the busy time of life and want a time of quiet recreation, where you can keep your good health, if you are so fortunate as to have that blessing, or regain your health if you have been so unfortunate as to lose that which stands far above everything else in this life. Pure water, pure atmosphere and an even climate cannot be otherwise than health building. With best wishes for our readers, for a good year and a prosperous year for the Journal, we are as usual, truly yours,

D. K. McCarty.

P. S.—We never felt that we were really keeping house till we began receiving mail from our northern friends and the Jacksonville papers were on our center table. You will never know till you have the experience, just what a letter or a card with a single sentence means to an one who is far away, a stranger in a strange land. We will be here till the 23d of January, then away for the far south.

GIFT TO MATT STARR POST.

G. A. R. Received a Number of Confederate Bills From Washington.

Matt Starr Post G. A. R. is in receipt of a number of Confederate bills which are prized highly. They come accompanied by a letter from the secretary of the United States treasury. There are fourteen of them of various issues and the following denominations: One $50; three $20; six $10 and four $5.

The following is a copy of the letter: Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.,

Matt Starr Post, G. A. R., Jacksonville, Ill.,
Gentlemen: Believing that your post would be interested in receiving specimens of notes issued by the Confederate States of America for exhibition purposes in the post headquarters I take pleasure in sending you an assortment of the same. These notes came into the possession of the United States army about the close of the civil war and were turned over by the war department to the treasurer of the United States in the year, 1867.

The treasury department has no complete series of these notes and in presenting such specimens as are now in its custody the department feels that proper disposition will be made of them for their safe keeping so as to render them of permanent value to your grand army post as historic relics.

Very truly yours,
Franklin McVeagh,
Secretary.

Expensive Dowries in India. The custom of extorting dowry has grown into the very fabric of social life, and is a standing nag to the Bengali community, which no justification to plead or apt to offer. The practice has now assumed alarming proportions of pure of boys extorting costly dowries as a condition of marrying their sons. The marriage of a daughter among Bengalis has become an expensive affair, and the amount in cash demanded by the father or guardian of the bride and paid by the father or guardian of the bride varies with the educational attainments of the bridegroom. The Indian Daily News published a few days ago a piteous appeal from a respectable Hindu parents of dowry daughters.—Indian Nation.

We have just installed a new welding plant, of the very latest pattern. The heat produced by this modern equipment is so intense that any metal melts under it. The addition of this apparatus makes it possible to do work in the machine shop of our garage which formerly was sent to the factory.

Our Query and Reply Department

What became of the Pen with which Lincoln wrote the Emancipation Proclamation?—It was given to Senator Sumner by the president at the request of the former, and by him presented to George Livermore, of Boston. It was a steel pen of the kind called "The Washington," in a common cedar holder—all as plain and unostentatious as was the president himself.

Where was Located the First Type Foundry in America?—The first type foundry in America was that of Abel Buell, and was established at Killingworth, Conn., in 1769. Good Long Primer type was cast and the Connecticut legislature was asked to give financial assistance.

When and Where was the Republican Party Born?—The place of the birth of the Republican party, like that of Homer, is claimed by several communities. Michigan claims that it was at a state convention, assembled at Jackson, July 6, 1854, a call for which was signed by more than 10,000 persons. The name "Republican" was adopted by the convention. Similar conventions, with similar motive and action, were held in Ohio, Wisconsin and Vermont July 13, and in Massachusetts July 19, 1854.

When was the Eagle first used on American Coins?—The Eagle was first used on American cents and half-cents in 1788, issued from the Massachusetts mint.

Do Woolen Garments Give Warmth?—It is a popular error to say that they do; they are simply poor conductors of heat and thereby prevent the radiation of animal warmth.

What was "The Oath at the Tomb of Calhoun?"—When the South Carolina convention adopted the Ordinance of Secession on Dec. 20, 1860, the city of Charleston seemed delirious with joy. While church bells were pealing, a group of enthusiastic young men went to St. Philip's cemetery, and, forming a circle around the tomb of Calhoun, registered a solemn oath to devote "their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor" to the cause.

When were Clocks Invented for Measuring Time?—The earliest known clock was invented by Henry de Vic, or De Wyck, a German, in 1379. The pendulum, as a regulating power in clocks, was introduced by Huygens, a celebrated Dutch astronomer as late as 1657.

What was the First Newspaper in America?—The first newspaper in America was called "Public Occurrences," and issued at Boston, in September, 1690. It was so radically democratic and outspoken that the magistrates smothered it on the day of its birth. The first permanent paper was the "Boston News-Letter," issued in April, 1704. The first daily was the "Pennsylvania Packet," by John Dunlap, in 1754.

What is the Origin of Lynch Law?—Lynch law is said to derive its name from John Lynch, a farmer, who exercised it upon the fugitive slaves in the Dismal Swamp, North Carolina, when they committed outrages upon persons and property which the colonial law could not promptly redress.

Who was the Author of Mother Goose Rhymes?—The alleged author was Mrs. Goose, member of a wealthy Boston family. Her daughter married Thomas Fleet, a printer. Mrs. Goose made her home in the Fleet household, and upon the arrival of the first-born to the house of Fleet, Mrs. Goose spent her time singing songs and ditties to the baby. Fleet published these in book form under the title of "Mother Goose's Melodies for Children."

Who was Mother Ann?—Mother Ann was the name given to Ann Lee, the founder of the religious sect known as "Shakers" in the United States. She, with a few followers, settled near Troy, N. Y., in 1776. She preached against the revolutionary war, and was for awhile in prison in the jail at Poughkeepsie, but was released by Governor Clinton.

What are Exotic Plants?—Plants which have been introduced from foreign countries.

CRACKER'S BEND.

The Ladies Aid of Chapel gave their entertainment entitled "Our Busy Ladies Aid" Tuesday evening Jan. 7th, at the M. P. church in Concord. The weather was a little stormy yet not cold or bad for this time of the year. The ladies were surprised at the lack of interest shown. We are very grateful to those who did go to the entertainment and thank you for your patronage and we wish to say that the entertainment was an entertainment, not a show. It was moral in every respect and clean and pure as any sermon ever preached. We are sure that the most saintly could not find fault to it or be offended at any part of it.

We are glad to find that Kid Fisher was running the Rexroat restaurant. There are no restaurants in this neighborhood but are always willing and glad to feed the hungry when they are in our midst. We believe in the Golden Rule.

Born.

Dear reader do you know that there is a model T. Ford automobile born every minute. It is a fact. There are now in use more than one hundred and thirty five thousand Ford cars, and while repairs are sold in provided for Ford cars, yet it is an item to have your repairs always at hand. We've got 'em. We are now 30,000 cars behind with orders and as we only have a limited amount of cars for this territory we would suggest to prospective Ford buyers that if they expect to get a car when they want it they can save themselves as well as us the trouble of having to wait by ordering now.

And to automobile owners at any kind. If you want your car massaged. Call on me at my garage. Morning, night or middle noon; we will fix you up just as soon, as we possibly can; with a first class job, by a first class man; our chisels are sharp, our apartments are clean, and everything else to be seen. Even the model T. Ford is just as well as any car, no matter what car or price you pay. Come in to day and if you are from Missouri we'll show you.

Respectfully,

C. N. Priest, the Ford Man.

Best Cough Medicine For Children.

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. "I have used it for years both for my children and myself and it never failed to relieve and cure a cough or cold. No family with children should be without it, as it gives almost immediate relief in cases of croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by all dealers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Dr. E. T. Evans of Decatur, a Sunday school expert is coming to Jacksonville for Sunday and will be the special guest of Centenary church and Sunday school. He will attend the Sunday school at the regular morning hour and afterward will occupy the pulpit of the church. In the afternoon he will meet the teachers and officers of the church and will point out to them any defects he sees in the Sunday school and will suggest any improvements that he thinks desirable.

Dr. Evans recently attended the state Sunday school convention of Iowa at Des Moines and the address he made there was the cause of a great deal of comment. He is superintendent of the Sunday school in the First Methodist church of Decatur where the average attendance not counting in Easter or any special days is 970. The people of Centenary are expecting some good results from Dr. Evans visit.

W. R. Fox, 193 W. Washington St., Noblesville, Ind., says: "After suffering many months with kidney troubles, after trying other remedies and prescriptions, I purchased a box of Foley Kidney Pills which not only did me more good than any other remedies I ever used, but have positively set my kidneys right. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." Take at the first sign of kidney trouble.—City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Arenz at 523 Hardin avenue, by Miss Irene Arenz in honor of Roy Lawson. The occasion being his twenty-first birthday. He received at watch box and a postal card shower. The home was beautifully decorated in red and green also red and white carnations.

Various games were played and light refreshments served. Those present were: Misses Louise McKean, Ha Ferreira, Dolly Tewksberry, Eva Lee Arenz, Irene Arenz, Elvah Shore, Lillian Wells, Nora Vanhyning, Messrs. Howard Anders, Curtis Cruzan, Earl Servoss, Reat Moody, Roy Lawson, Mrs. J. C. Hemlock, Mrs. M. J. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Arenz.

CUT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

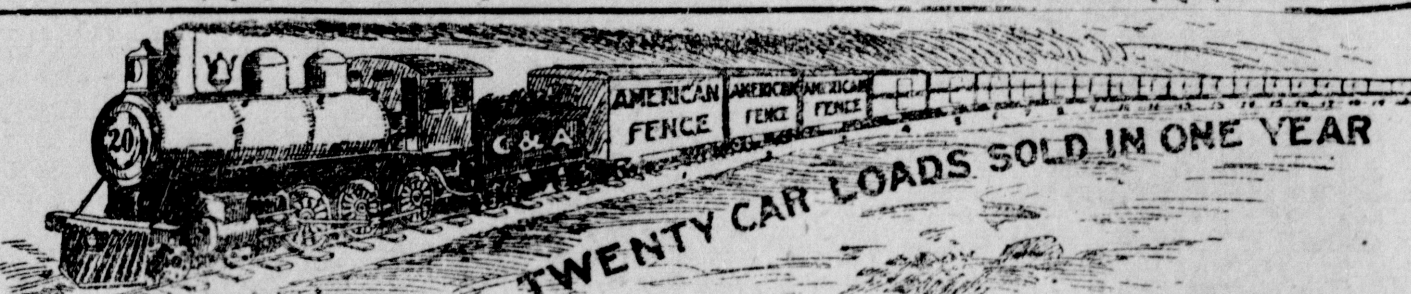

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates.—City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

NOT DIPHTHERIA.

A short time since it was announced that Miriam Brown, daughter of W. J. Brown, residing on Independence avenue, had died of diphtheria. Since that time Mr. Brown says that an examination has been made by the state board of health and Dr. Grace Dewey and both have decided that the child was not afflicted with the dread disease named.

PARROT WORKS FOR CITY

"Teddy" Bosses the Workmen Who Are Paving an Alley in Chicago.

Chicago—"Teddy" is a parrot and a "boss" of men.

City workmen are paving the alley in the rear of the bird's home, and they get neither time to loaf nor opportunity to fatten their pay envelopes by making the job last longer, for "Polly" is constantly on the job "bossing" the men, except, of course, when "Polly" is talking politics.

August T. Reichmann, 3014 Clifton avenue, letter carrier at the Lake View substation, is the owner of "Teddy" and describes the martinet hold the bird has on the laborers.

"Come on, fellows!" the bird demands. At first the men were mystified, and gazed wonderingly at "Teddy" when they received the command: "Go to work, now, boys!"

"Polly," alias "Teddy," has a good eye for detail, too, her owner declares. Reichmann is off several hours every afternoon and declares he has come home and found his pet conversing and giving orders like this: "What are you doing? Stay at it. Drop that, you boob," and terminating chattering frequently with, "That's the boy."

"Teddy" must be honest," said E. J. Glackin, secretary of the board of local improvements. "The name does not appear on the city pay roll. This is one time the city gets the best of it."

WEARS BRACELET ON ANKLE

Churchgoers by the Hundreds Gaze Approvingly at Combination of Gold and Hose and Lingerie.

St. Louis, Mo.—With rings on her fingers and a solid gold bracelet snugly clasping her ankle, Miss Adeline Gritman attracted the attention of hundreds of churchgoers as she walked to a drug store recently.

The zephyrs were sufficient to place the skirts and lingerie in just such a position that the ankle and the bracelet displayed their charms, and the combination proved irresistible for even those church bound.

"Yes," assented Miss Gritman, when asked about the incident, "It did create somewhat of a sensation, but I cannot see why, can you? Now, in New York, where I have lived from time to time, nobody ever thought anything of it, and I wore a bracelet most of the time in the same way."

"You see, St. Louis is such a small town that anything novel gains so much publicity for one. When I first came to work here I wore many novel ideas. I have become quite demure in my tastes recently, but I like the bracelet idea."

"Really, I think the bracelet looks prettier on the ankle than on the wrist. The gold shows off to better advantage over black silk hose than most any other color, but it looks good over pink."

SEC. DOYLE TAKES APPEAL.

Seeks Authority of Supreme Court to Pay to Treasurer Big Fee Collected From C. & Q.

Secretary of State Doyle yesterday took an appeal to the supreme court from a decision of Judge James A. Creighton in the circuit court that he must refrain from paying to the state treasurer a fee of $110,885 collected from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company. The fee was collected under protest from the railroad for extending the line's charter fifty years.

Secretary Doyle took the view that the extension constituted a new organization and that the railroad must pay a fee for the certification of all its stock. The railroad argued that only $2 was due the secretary of state for filing the certificate. It asked an injunction in the circuit court to prevent the payment of the big fee into the treasury until a court ruling has decided whether its collection is legal.

STATE AND NATIONAL CORN SHOW.

Result of Efforts of 65,000 Boys to Be Made Known—New Facts and Principles Will Be Demonstrated.

The fifth annual national corn exposition will be held in Columbia, S. C., Jan. 27 to Feb. 8, 1913, following the close of the Illinois corn show to be held in Urbana, Ill., Jan. 13 to 25. At the national exposition there will be actual accomplishments in agriculture shown in competitive exhibits from 35 states. New facts and principles will be demonstrated in exhibits from 25 agricultural colleges and experiment stations. There will also be one of the largest, most complete and comprehensive exhibits of the federal agricultural department ever attempted.

One Thousand Boy Guests.

One thousand boys will be guests of the exposition for one week. Each of these boys must have grown an acre of corn during 1913 and have passed a competitive examination under the Dr. Knapp's system of country life improvement.

Sixty-five thousand boys of southern states have been working all summer with a view to securing the privilege of being one of the guests of the exposition.

The national exposition will receive exhibits from state shows only (except in case of states where there is no state organization) hence citizens of Illinois who desire to exhibit competitive samples should enter them at the Illinois state fair at Urbana by five o'clock p. m., Wednesday, Jan. 15. All who attend the Illinois show are invited to bring at least one ten-cent exhibit, which shall remain the property of the exhibitor. No cash premiums will be offered, but the superior samples will be indicated by suitable ribbons. There are also a number of special premiums to be awarded. The competitive samples will be exhibited at the national exposition in connection with the exhibit of the state agricultural college. It is intended that the national exposition shall be a grand review of agricultural progress and development. All railroads will give reduced round trip rates.—H. A. McKeene, secretary Illinois Farmers' Institute.

Might Get Even With Mosquito.
An observer in India has found a small fly of the midge class with its proboscis inserted in the abdomen of a mosquito, engaged in sucking the mosquito's blood. There is comfort, if not benefit, in this bit of news.
Why can't we import this midge? The mosquitoes would know how it is themselves then, perhaps.—Farm and Put Away Small Things.

Get rid of small wisdom and great wisdom will shine upon you. Put away goodness and you will be naturally good. A child does not learn to speak because taught by professors of the art, but because it lives among people who can themselves talk.—
Chuang Tzu.

Hiccough Epidemics.
The epidemics of hiccough which have occasionally been observed are probably due to hysterical contagion and to the nervous predisposition of the majority of the individuals who are affected by it. It is to functional derangement of the nervous system owing to a slackening of the circulation that the hiccough of the death struggle, remarkably more particularly in a period of abundant hemorrhage, is to be ascribed.

Japanese Couple Elope.
An elopement which caused some excitement in San Jose, Cal., not long since, was that of a charming Japanese girl, who, as a child, was brought from her native land by a wealthy resident of San Jose and educated at Bryn Mawr. Owing to the fact that her guardian left no will the young lady was left penniless upon his decease a few years ago. The man with whom she eloped is a prominent fellow-countryman of her own, with business interests in San Francisco.

deavors to make.—Chicago Tribune.

STOCKS TAKE BACKWARD SWING

WEAKNESS OF COPPERS HAS UNSETTLING INFLUENCE.

Whole List Gives Way, Although Losses Were Only Fractional in a Majority of Cases—China Weakest.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Jan. 10.—Weakness of the coppers had an unsettling influence on the general market today, and there was a backward swing from yesterday's close. The heaviness of the list had its inception in the copper group but spread to the transmissional railroad issues, which responded to moderate pressure. The whole list gave way, although in a majority of cases the losses were only fractional. Among the coppers China with a decline of 2% was weakest. China Ps broke 3%. There was no new development to account for a change in speculative sentiment, and the movement appeared to be chiefly the result of maneuvers by the professional element.

Although the increase in the United States Steel corporation's unfilled tonnage fell short of some estimates, it was not a disappointing showing and denoted a large volume of forward business. Orders on hand are estimated as sufficient to keep the mills of the corporation busy for half of the year. Never before in the twelve years of the corporation's history has it begun a new year with so large a carry-over of business on its books.

Weakness of the copper stocks was associated with the further break of the metal abroad and with reports that selling agencies here had been closing contracts under the official rate of 17% cents.

Another large cash gain by the banks as a result of the week's operations was forecasted. Estimates suggested a gain of $18,000,000 to $20,000,000.

WHEAT PRICES
FLUCTUATE RAPIDLY

TRADERS' BUFFET MARKET
PRICE BACK AND FORTH.

Result of Fluctuations Showed no Marked Advantage Until the Arrival of the Wars Reports From London.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Jan. 10.—Wheat prices were buffeted back and forth with no marked advantage to either side today until the arrival of a cablegram predicting the collapse of the peace negotiations at London when prices advanced sharply. This news also affected corn and oats bullishly.
Provisions closed with little change.
Wheat opened 1/2c off under the influence of cables which reflected only slightly the emphatic advance on this side yesterday and enormous shipments from the Argentine. Selling was liberal but the output was well taken and an under-tone of firmness was quite apparent. Then came news of the hitch in the peace negotiations and shorts scattered to cover until May at its best sold 1c over yesterday's close.
There was a reaction from the top on profit-taking but the close was strong, May 1/2c% higher.
Corn opened slightly lower after yesterday's advance of a penny, but recovered quickly when it was seen that there were plenty of purchasers at the concession. Prices for a time fluctuated narrowly until arrival of the disturbing news and the peace negotiations when May attained an altitude 3/4c over yesterday's final figures. Profit-taking sales sent the price back 1/4c at the close which, however, was 5/8c over yesterday.
Oats followed the path beaten by corn and wheat and closed at the top. Argentine shipments were liberal.
There was only a small, indifferent traded in provisions. Fluctuations were narrow and the close a shade under yesterday.

DEATH RESULTS FROM FALL ON ICE

WHITE HALL PHYSICIAN SUC-CUMBS TO ACCIDENT.

Dr. E. K. Shirley Slipped on Ice Pavement, Rolled Into Gutter and Drowned—Was Son of Late Dr. G.
Y. Shirley of This City—Coroner's Inquest Today.

Dr. E. K. Shirley, a well known physician of White Hall, met almost instant death Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when he fell on the icy pavement and rolled into the gutter, where he drowned. He fell in such a manner as to render him unconscious and before found had succumbed to the accident.

Dr. Shirley was passing in front of the Christian church, where the ice was especially slippery. From the bridge on his face and head, he must have fallen forward on the ice. When he rolled into the gutter, he stopped with his face downward, and while there was only a small quantity of water at that point, it was sufficient to drown him before he was detected by passersby. The first person to notice him was a lady and she immediately called to two boys, one of whom was Frank Bossett. Help was summoned and the physician was taken to the home of Dr. Lee Frech, where every means was taken to restore life. It is supposed that the man must have been dead at least half an hour.

Dr. E. K. Shirley was about 57 years of age and was born in Jacksonville, being the son of the late Dr. G. Y. Shirley. The father was one of the pioneer dentists of this city and the family was prominently identified with the Methodist church interests. The father practiced for a number of years in a large frame house which was located where the Pacific hotel now stands. Later he moved to a building which stood where Music Hall of the Woman's college was built. After practicing dentistry for a number of years he became a homeopathist doctor.

The son received his education in the public schools of Jacksonville and later attended a Homeopathic college. About 30 years ago he married a daughter of the late Alford White, one of the pioneer residents of Green county.

He has been a practicing physician of White Hall since his marriage and was identified with the best interests of the city. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and of the Methodist church. His sudden death has caused widespread sorrow through the country.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Miss Anna at home and Mrs. Roy Beaver of Calgary, Canada, also two sons, Henry and Albert. He also leaves one brother, Dr. H. B. Shirley of San Diego, Calif., and one sister, Miss Lina Shirley of St. Louis.

A coroner's inquest will be held this morning at 9 o'clock and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

Horse's Charge Scattered Soldiers.

A sensational incident attended the recent Australian military maneuvers at Oakleigh, Vic. Some drivers belonging to the field artillery were having lunch outside a tent, when a horse in the vicinity bolted. The animal made straight for the soldiers, who, being unprepared for attack, could not withstand the charge. Half a dozen men were knocked in confused fashion amongst dishes and miscellaneous articles, and most of them received some injury.

MASONS PAY HONOR TO L. Y. SHERMAN

Is Appointed and Installed as Grand Orator of Order in State of Illinois.

Lawrence Y. Sherman, former lieutenant governor of Illinois and Republican primary nominee for United States senator to succeed Shelby M. Cullom and now chairman of the state board of administration has been appointed and installed grand orator of the Grand lodge, A. F. & A. M., Illinois.

This is one of the most important of Masonic positions. The orator is the mouthpiece of the lodge at the annual meeting in October. He delivers the annual oration, sounding the note that becomes a standard for Masonry during the next succeeding year.

His speech is generally on a moral subject, with good citizenship as taught by Masonry for both public and private citizens in the foreground.

It is printed in the proceedings of the Grand lodge, and is usually of such character, it is said, that it is widely read by Masons.

Among other public men who have held the position of grand orator are Dr. James B. McFarrick, president of the board of education, and Richard Yates, former governor of Illinois.

Regarding the appointment, Ora T. Chapin, editor of Oriental Consistory, said:

"Mr. Sherman is peculiarly fitted to deliver the oration before the Grand lodge next October. His connection with the board of administration and the state charitable institutions has supplied him with a fund of intimate information which, together with his gifts as an orator, should produce a masterpiece on morals and citizenship.

"No doubt his address will be rich with the fruits of his experience in connection with the schools for the blind, the feeble-minded, delinquent boys and girls and the development of the necessity of a school for epileptics.

"The boy proposition should appeal to citizens. Mr. Sherman is loaded with charitable stuff. He has lived it and he feels it. Seventy per cent of the boys sent to St. Charles school never are arrested again. There is a farm of 1,000 acres at the institution, and on it boys sent there physically imperfect and mentally undersized and hampered are taught to be good, intelligent citizens."

Poets Are Sometimes Made.

"Poets are born and not made, said the young man with the pale, interesting face and the long hair. 'Are they?' replied his wife. 'Well, I'll show you that they are made some times. I'll make you watch the baby while I go shopping this morning or you shall never have another dollar that my father sends to me.'"

HEADLESS CATS KEPT ALIVE

Surgeons at National Clinical Congress at Cornell College Say Feat Is Possible.

New York.—One of the most interesting exhibits for the surgeons who attended the National Clinical congress here was shown at the Cornell Medical college. In a series of demonstrations Prof. John Murlin is showing the "headless cat" as the subject of physiological experiment.

It is declared possible to keep headless cats alive for several days if necessary. In the experiments which are being carried on at present, it is rarely necessary to keep them alive longer than twelve hours. The purpose of the experiments is to study the reflexes of the nervous system.

What surgeons cite as evidence of rapid advance in surgical accomplishments is the extent to which which bone transplantation figures in operations which are being performed in this city this week. Several of these operations show that bones can be kept in cold storage for use whenever occasion arises.

Dr. Fred H. Albee removed the astragalus from the heel of a patient in the post-graduate hospital, and in the amphitheater of Bellevue hospital used the same bone as a substitute for a missing bone in the hip joint of a patient. The head of the femur, which rotates in the hip joint was missing, and Doctor Albee declared the implanted astragalus would make a fairly efficient substitute.

BRITISH TO BREAK RECORD

Dreadnought Is Ordered Ready for Launching Five Months After Keel Plates Are Laid.

London.—All battleship building records are to be surpassed by the British navy if the plans of construction of the latest British dreadnought are carried out. The new vessel is ordered to be ready for launching five months after the laying of the first keel plates.

Somewhat of a sensation was caused at Portsmouth when it was announced officially, immediately after the launching of the Iron Duke, that the keel plates of the superdreadnought which is to follow were to be laid the next Monday. In recent years it has been the practice to allow two or three months to intervene between the launching of a new ship and the laying down of another.

It is said promises have been made to the admiralty that the new ship will be ready for launching within five months and ready for service within one year, thus beating the record of the original dreadnought by two months.

It is also claimed the new ship will be as great a departure from prevailing types as the dreadnought was from any of its predecessors. Provisions for oil fuel will be made in the new vessel, and she will be armored to resist air attacks.

GERMANS GIVE UP THE PIPE

Paper Smokes Gain in Favor and Statistics Show That Ten Times as Many Are Used.

Berlin.—The typical pipe of the German is passing out and giving place to the cigarette in spite of the devotion of the older Germans to their pipes or penny cigars.

Statistics just published show that the number of cigarettes consumed has increased more than tenfold since 1897, when the billion mark was passed, the figures being for 1907, 7,820,000,000; for 1908, 8,698,000,000; for 1909, 9,508,000,000, and for 1911, 12,403,000,000. These figures include the stamped hulls used by persons who prefer to make their own cigarettes but who are not allowed to escape the cigarette tax, and they show that the consumption has almost doubled in the last five years.

Assuming 20,000,000 adult male smokers in Germany, this gives an average consumption per smoker of 620 cigarettes a year. The great bulk of these are cigarettes of the cheapest sort, 37 1/2 per cent. of those sold in 1911 retailing at 11-2 pfennigs (three for a cent) or under and 35.7 per cent. falling in the next grade, retailing at 11-2 pfennigs apiece. All in all, the German smoker, it is estimated, burns up 250,000,000 marks, $62,500,000, in cigarettes annually.

Record of Longevity.

A remarkable record of longevity is to be found in some of the rural parishes of France. In the village of St. Thomas de la Flèche there have been only 14 parish priests in 300 years, the fourteenth being still in possession. The parish of St. Germain du Val, in Paris, has had only three pastors in 100 years, while that of Givry en Argonne has had but five in 130 years.

Couple's Many Separations.

A matrimonial record of a curious kind has been created by a well-to-do farmer of Aargov, the capital of the canton of Aargov in Switzerland, who has just married his "wife" for the fourth time, divorcing her on four separate occasions. The man married another woman during one of the intervals, but divorced her some months after the wedding. The woman returned to her parents, and lived quietly until her former husband came to ask her to remarry him. The couple, who are in love with each other and are still young, are now on their fourth honeymoon during eight years.

Mrs. Jesse Henry of Woodson paid the city a call yesterday.

ARE SEARCHING FOR GRAVES OF REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS

Members of the D. A. R. Will Place Markers on Graves When All in Morgan County Are Located—Special Exercises to be Held at That Time.

If the members of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter, D. A. R., are able to locate all the graves of the thirty-four soldiers of the American revolution, who are buried in Morgan county, markers will be placed on all the graves and exercises will be held not later than May, which will be participated in by some of the most prominent members of the D. A. R.'s and state and national officials of noted reputation.

These markers are secured through the war department and the department will not send the markers unless the graves of the revolution soldiers are known. The committee appointed from the local chapter is making every effort to locate these graves. They especially desire everyone who has records of grave yards to look them over very carefully and as early as possible let the committee know if any have been found. A card dropped to Miss Olive Dunlap will be sufficient and greatly appreciated.

The exercises to be held at the time the markers are placed on the graves is expected to be a real letter in the history of the organization. If the weather is fine the speaking perhaps will take place in the open air, possibly in front of the court house.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

Miss Stut Will Give an Address This Afternoon on Woman's Suffrage.

Under the civic committee of the Woman's club, Miss Grace Wilbur Stut of Chicago will give an address this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Academy hall on the subject of Woman's Suffrage. Miss Stut is from the state organization and resides in Chicago. She is an eloquent speaker and well qualified to handle the subject. It is expected that there will be a large attendance of members. The music for the occasion will be a delightful feature as Messrs. Manger and Kitch will give a piano and violin number. Will be a Tsalahasse suite for violin and piano by Cyril Scott.

A luncheon will be given at the Peacock Inn this afternoon at 1 o'clock for Miss Stut when it is expected that some thirty of the members will be present.

AT THE GRAND TODAY.

This afternoon Billy Clifford and his company will appear at the grand in "The Girl, The Man and The Game," at prices from 10 to 25 cents. Tonight the prices will be from 25 to 50 cents. It is a guaranteed $1.50 attraction and the two shows were brought outright by Manager Hunt which makes it possible to present them at these prices.

Here's what the St. Louis Republic said recently: "The 'Beau Nash' of light comedy Billy 'Single' Clifford presented to the patrons of the American Theatre yesterday afternoon his latest offering, 'The Girl, The Man and The Game,' and was heartily welcomed and if the applause received is a criterion of success, he certainly has one of the biggest successes ever seen here. His play is a riot of pretty girls, led by the immortal 'Billy' and a clever cast in his support. He calls it a musical feast served in two courses, it is all that and then some. The 'piece de resistance' of the farce is a captivating, pretty waltz by Billy and Miss DeVon and is one of the prettiest pieces of stage dancing ever seen in this city."

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth Cahill will be conducted this morning at 9 o'clock from the Church of Our Savior.

The funeral services of John Halthman will take place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Second Christian church.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Covington will be held from the late residence, 1310 South Vy avenue, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Do you need winter wear for this winter or next? It will pay you to get it now. A quarter off at Knoles' January clearance sale.

MORE TESTIMONY GIVEN IN COURT STREET PAVING CASE

Engineers on the Witness Stand in Behalf of Mr. Cherry—Maintain That Materials were of Usual Commercial Quality.

The hearing of the Court street paving case continued Friday before Judge Weaver of Springfield and the end is not yet. E. M. Henderson, city engineer, Chas. E. Walker, John Huggatt and John Boland were the witnesses put on by the complainants and then the taking of testimony on behalf of Mr. Cherry began. Witnesses for him were L. L. Harper of Granite City, an engineer; John G. Pratt of Virginia, an engineer; M. D. Schaff, of Springfield, representing the Virginia Timber Co., who sold the sand and gravel for the Court street job, and T. S. Michaels of Taylorville, an engineer. Mr. Baer conducted the examination of witnesses for Mr. Cherry and the cross examination was by Mr. Vaught.

The purpose of placing Engineer Henderson on the stand was to bring out facts in connection with the manner in which he figured out the cost for the work on the pavement. He led to his office for the records and figures and about an hour of the time of the morning session was consumed in this way. Mr. Henderson was asked to explain why there was a variation of about $900 in the estimates of cost, the second figure being the lower. He explained that the first figures were made in his absence because of sickness and that assistants through an error got hold of some figures on another job. This was discovered and the correction made.

Chris Walker, who drives a wagon for Ethie Bros., testified to noting some depressions in the pavement after it was completed. Mr. Huggatt testified that he had noted no depressions in the pavement, and Mr. Boland said that he had noted some small ones, but that he did not think they had grown any larger as time passed.

L. L. Harper of Granite City was the first witness put on the stand by Mr. Cherry's attorneys. He is an engineer with a large experience in municipal improvements and does work for Belleville, East St. Louis and a number of other cities. John G. Pratt of Virginia, public engineer for that city, and surveyor of Cass county, was the next witness and a third engineer was T. S. Michaels of Taylorville, who is engineer for that city and has had thirty years' experience in the business. The line of questioning by the attorneys for the defense was to show that the sand and gravel used in the concrete on Court street were of the usual commercial quality and of a kind used in street improvement work in other cities. Samples of concrete taken from the pavement were shown, one in an effort to make it clear that in the foundation where the cement had time to properly set that the concrete is in good condition and the other was exhibited as a sample of concrete resulting when water from a burst pipe washed out the cement, leaving the concrete imperfect and weak. The experts testified that the specifications as to the relative amounts of sand, gravel and cement were those usual for such work. They testified, too, that where a stream of water was directed against a piece of concrete with much force behind it that it was possible to crack and shatter the concrete. They testified also that it takes seven days for the first firm setting of cement to take place and that the setting process is not concluded until the end of 28 days. Further they stated that if water passed through concrete with force before the cement had set that the cement would wash out. This testimony was to bring out the condition of the concrete where a water pipe burst and washed up some of the foundation.

In cross examining the witnesses Mr. Vaught asked the witnesses about sand in the endeavor to show that the sand used had an excess of loam in it and that it was not as sharp as it should be to have the desired results. He also laid emphasis on the fact that the witnesses were experts who drew pay for their testimony and suggested that the line of their testimony had been agreed upon at a conference with the attorneys for Mr. Cherry. He asked if it was not a fact that there was a sort of a friendly alliance among contractors and engineers and that they had come here to help out one of their number in trouble.

Mr. Schaff testified that the sand and gravel sold for the Court street job was like that shipped by his company to Springfield, Taylorville and a large number of central Illinois cities. He said that he never had a complaint on the material shipped to Jacksonville at the time and that the cars were taken out when a day were being produced from the company's works. He maintained that the gravel and the sand were both such as would conform to the specifications and that there was not an excess of sand in the gravel or of loam in the sand. When asked if he was not an interested witness because the material had not yet been paid for and that he would not get pay unless the trouble about the street was settled, he replied that his agreement with Mr. Cherry was for Feb. 1 without regard to the settlement on the pavement. When Mr. Schaff was shown a sample of sand not shipped by his company and was asked if it was better than his shipments, he caused a laugh by replying, "You will have a mighty hard work to get me to say that it is any better than we produce."

Judge Weaver returned to Springfield on the 6:15 o'clock train and will come to Jacksonville this morning at 10:20 o'clock. The trial will therefore be resumed about 10:30 o'clock this morning.

EXPERIENCE WORTH MUCH. Thirty years experience as designer and finisher of monumental work is worth much to the purchaser as well as the individual himself. You can get the benefit of this experience by calling on William Raedner at the Rowe Granite works and asking him to draw a design for anything you wish in the line of cemetery work.

DEATH OF EARLY EDITOR.

One of Illinois' Writers Dies—Was Born in Jacksonville.

Samuel S. Brooks passed away the forepart of the week in Mt. Sterling at the age of 72 years. The deceased was born in this city about 1840, the son of Samuel S. Brooks Sr., one of the early editors of Illinois. Naturally being from the stock which composed some of the state's early writers and publishers he took up the printing business and developed into a first class printer of the olden days. In 1863, while employed in the news room of the Quincy Daily Herald, at that time edited by his older brother, Austin Brooks, he and his brother, Martin Brooks, now a resident of Florence, Calif., bought the Mt. Sterling Union, the only paper published at that time in Brown county. The name was changed to the Mt. Sterling Record, and Brooks brothers conducted it for seven or eight years. On retiring from the Record, in 1869, deceased served as deputy circuit clerk for a year or two and was for several years employed at the Mt. Sterling depot as assistant agent. He afterwards spent a while in Quincy. He is survived by one brother, Martin Brooks of California.

PETERSBURG BANK CHANGE.

In a statement just issued D. S. Frackelton & Co., of Petersburg announce the change of their bank from a private institution to one under state control. The owners state that there is an evident sentiment in Illinois for the placing of private banks under the state supervision and they have desired to defer to this feeling. The Frackelton bank was established in 1865 by the late D. S. Frackelton and now has a capital and surplus of $120,000. It is one of the oldest banks in Central Illinois and has the name of being one of the best managed. The officers of the Frackelton State bank which succeeds to the business of D. S.
